Editor's Pick of the Week: Vintage Shaving Kit

by Editor-in-chief Anicka Quin

August 2, 2011

Last week I attended a fun "Christmas In July" event put on by the Vancouver One of Kind Show (just like my mother, we in the magazine business start planning for the holidays in the summer). They loaded the bunch of us on a boat down at Granville Island and toured us around the harbour (there's the summer part of it) while the interior of the ship was decorated up for the holidays—and full of sneak peeks for the show that runs December 8 to 11. Lots of cute stuff perfect for my holiday list, but I was particularly smitten with the vintage shaving kits from Vancouver Island's The Copper Hat: a locally turned shaving brush in Zebrawood, a razor, blades, a tube of Don Luxury shave cream, a stainless steel lathering bowl and a cotton barber towel, all packed in an authentic cigar box. The perfect bon voyage gift for a friend who's off to the Big Smoke for work this fall. From $99 at thecopperhat.ca
